Community meetings discuss: "Where do we grow from here?"
Residents focus on issues involved in the county's comprehensive plan review

Vancouver, WA—A series of community meetings on the comprehensive plan review are being hosted by the Neighborhood Advisory Committee of Clark County. "Even if you've never been involved in a neighborhood association or growth management issues before, please join us for this important opportunity," says Doug Ballou, NACCC president. "We all have a stake in Clark County's future." The meetings will be held on:

October 10, 7 to 9 p.m.
Camas Police Station
2100 NE 3rd Ave.
Camas

October 12, 7 to 9 p.m.
Public Works Operations
4700 NE 78th Street
Vancouver

October 20, 7 to 9 p.m.
District 11/Dollars Corner
Fire Station, 21609 NE 72nd
Battle Ground

"Decisions made as part of Clark County's current comprehensive plan review will directly affect the character of our communities in the years ahead," says Pat Lee, Clark County's Long-Range Planning manager. "Washington State's Growth Management Act requires fast-growing counties to develop land-use plans and review these plans periodically," he explains.
